in my body, whether it be by life, or by death.
 Ro. 5:6; 8:19; Ep. 6:19,20.
 21 For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain.
 22 But if I live in the flesh, this is the fruit of my labour; yet what I shall choose I wot
 I know not.

"...For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory forever."

CAMPUS

Being Taylor's oldest structure, the Administration Building records the heartbeat of the campus.

Evident for all to see is the material shell of Taylor University—wood, brick, and stone. From the stately administration building to the impressive new food center, from the natural beauty of the college woods in the fall to the loveliness of springtime flowers in the sunken gardens, the campus represents one hundred thirteen years of fellowship between man and God. To passers-by, Taylor remains simply the group of buildings just beyond the village border...

Marked by sweeping lines of modernistic design, the Ed Camp Dining Hall is our newest addition.

Recorded in each new structure is a chronicle of progress. Each represents a step ahead by its presence and by its service. But in the latest addition, the dormitory and food center, is also a promise of future advancement. It represents the beginning of a new series of much-needed buildings to augment those whose corridors now echo with footsteps. . .

Within the transparent panels of glass, students consume great quantities of Mr. McCormick's good food.

A glimpse of the "Cracker Box" from the "Soup Bowl."

Work or play? Fellows enjoy dorm life in one of the floor lounges in Morris Hall.

"Special guests" from Marion were given the Christmas story by Swallow Robin Dorm boys.

Swallow Robin Dorm, alias the "Birdbarn," is the home for Sophomore fellows.

Through the windows of the Food Center, we see the view of the Magee-Campbell and Wisconsin Girls' Dorm. It is a place of rest, study and play for the girls at Taylor.

After chapel rush is hindered by some sidewalk theologians.

A good place to study — the Ayres Alumni Memorial Library.

A "bird's-eye" view of education — the Education Building as viewed from Swallow-Robin Dormitory.

The science majors' home away from home.

Beacons in a storm of activities, the P.O., Grille, and Bookstore represent times of relaxation.

“Underfed” Taylorites appeal to Curt Carter to snatch them from the brink of starvation.

Many cheers I have heard, and many fans I have lured — Maytag Gymnasium.

Annex buildings make good classrooms and offices for the Taylor University campus.

A small part of Fairlane Village — home of some married and some bachelor Taylorites.

"I am part of all that I have met..."

PEOPLE

... It does not take long, however, for the casual observer to notice the life's blood of Taylor—the people who frequent her paths. Her administrators who work for her best; her professors who sacrifice themselves to teach; her staff who maintain her grounds; her students who are challenged to grow; these are the Taylor of Eternity. These are they who control her mein, who preserve her dignity, who spread her understanding, who praise her God...

Leading Taylor's fellowship of work and faith is the president, Dr. Evan H. Bergwall, himself an alumnus. After further study at New York University, Emory University, and Oxford University, he was awarded a Doctor of Divinity degree by Asbury Theological Seminary. One of his important roles is representing Taylor to the surrounding world.

The President's family.

Our President — Dr. Evan H. Bergwall

As commencement time returns again, we realize that the on-going mission of Taylor University is making progress. Again a fine group of young people are graduating and either entering into their chosen vocations or pursuing graduate study to better equip themselves for their high calling. It is a real joy for us to see the growth in the lives of our students which bring them more adequately to the challenges of these crisis days.

It is my personal desire to express gratitude to each senior for the contribution that you have made to the total life of our college. May you have received a real foundation not only in your academic study but also in your spiritual lives. I challenge you to go forth to give of your best to the Master and to a needy society. Be assured that our prayers and our interests will ever go with you and that our constant prayer for you will be "true success in the Lord."

As God has blessed you may you multiply that blessing in the lives of many others.

Your friend in Christ,
Evan H. Bergwall

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Board of Directors closely follows each function of the school.

ALUMNI BOARD

Taylor graduates all, the Alumni Board lovingly watch her growth.

Dr. Milo A. Rediger, our Academic Dean, is also a vice-president of the college and a Professor of Religion. Even these titles do not begin to convey the real tasks which are his.

His patience, wisdom, and ability have won him the love and respect of students and faculty alike. Dr. Rediger holds the A.B., the M.A., and the Ph.D. degrees.

ADMINISTRATION

As Dean of Students, Dr. William D. Green probably has more personal contact with the students than any other member of the administration. His quiet, attractive personality and his constant integrity and honesty have enabled him to do his job well. Dr. Green holds the Th.B., the A.B., the M.A., and the Ed.D. degrees.

The Reverend Harold E. Camp, Vice-President in charge of Development, has an important part in the era of expansion which we are all enjoying. The Reverend Mr. Camp is seeking to acquire funds so that the "Taylor of Tomorrow" may become a reality.

The business acumen of Mr. Paul D. Keller is a valuable asset to Taylor University. As Business Manager, Mr. Keller supervises the income and expenditures of all parts of our campus. He holds the B.S. and Mus. M. degrees.

A familiar and beloved face on campus is Grace Olson, Registrar and Director of Admissions. She and her able assistant, Mr. E. Sterl Phinney, have the first contact with all prospective Taylorites, and follow the scholastic career of each throughout his undergraduate training and into fields of more advanced education.

Keeping contact with the "outside world," Mr. Wilbur Cleveland keeps our friends and alumni informed concerning all the latest happenings. As Director of Public and Alumni Relations, he, through his tact, resourcefulness, and goodwill, has helped Taylor to become better known each year.

STAFF

Clara Wimmer, Gloria Rogers, and Dru Hayes join forces in the mailing and duplicating department.

Edith Miller consults with Arnold Woodring concerning a duplicating problem.

Always ready with a cheerful voice and a helpful smile is Taylor's switchboard-receptionist, Mrs. Ida Herber.

Miss Alice Holcomb, Miss Marcella Fuller, and Miss Lois Weed not only maintain an efficient library but also lend a willing hand to befuddled researchers.

Schrader, Bessie Wilkes, Bonnie McCarnegie, Jean Bell, Howard McCormick (Supervisor) make up the efficient kitchen staff.

"Grandpa" Francis, postmaster, greets everyone with cheerful conversation.

Mrs. Bill Loewen and Carol Wolfgang serve the students in the indispensable campus bookstore.

Under the management of Mrs. Howard McCormick, Curt Carter is just one of the many workers who feed a starving student body.

Mrs. E. Goette and Mrs. Lillie Haakonsen, college nurses, help keep the students in good health.

Bill Kendall is head resident of Morris Hall, and his wife works as secretary to the Dean of Students.

This is "Mom," Miss Roberta Kessler. We girls couldn't live without her in Magee-Cambell-Wisconsin Hall.

Head Resident of Swallow Robin Dormitory, Jay Kessler, poses with his wife Jane, who is the "handy" gal to have at Magee Desk.

MAINTENANCE

The housekeepers, headed by Mrs. Stephenson rest a minute from their endless task of keeping the dormitory clean.

Roger Beaverson, a business major, has a wide interest in music. He was a member of the Varsity Quartet and the Male Chorus and director of the Vesper Choir. In his freshman year he was treasurer of the class and as a junior he was class president. Roger also was an orientation leader, member of the Business Club and the Symposium Dialecticum.

Betty Egeberg has been active in student government throughout her college years. She participated in WRA and acted as an orientation leader. After being a member of Student Council for two years, Betty became chairman of the organization in her senior year. Since she plans to teach she also was in SEA.

WHO'S WHO

Marlene Foura's majors were religion and psychology. Much of her time was devoted to Student Council and the English Club, of which she was program chairman. Marlene was chairman of the Junior-Senior Banquet and held the offices of treasurer of the dorm council, and secretary of Youth Conference Cabinet. She also belonged to Symposium Dialecticum and was an orientation leader.

Lee Kinzer, a pre-medical student majoring in psychology, was a member of the Alpha Pi Iota medical club his last two years. Much of his time has been given in service as a student pastor.

Jim Key, a physical education major, was treasurer of the T-Club his junior year and co-captain of the football team. Wisconsin Dorm had Jim as its vice-president as did the sophomore class of 56-57. Jim also has served on the Youth Conference Cabinet. In his senior year he received the Christian Herald award.

Elementary education is Cleo Murdoch's major field. As a member of SEA she has served as vice-president of both the local and state organization. Cleo has been hostess as well as co-chairman of the Youth Conference. In her sophomore year she was an orientation leader and was a dorm councilor for two years.

Sue Newhard, a social studies major, plans to teach her subject. She was president of the Social Science Club, vice-president of Chi Sigma Phi, and secretary of Youth Conference Cabinet in her senior year. She also was on the Youth Conference Cabinet her junior year and lead a orientation class.

The Student Body President, Wally Roth, has been a participant in Student Council and was Chief Justice of the Student Judiciary. Wally is a math major planning for the teaching vocation. He has played football for four years and has contributed write-ups in the Gem and Echo. In his junior year he became assistant editor of the Echo.

Bob Trout, an elementary education major, has served as president of the local SEA. His interest in sports has lead him to active participation in baseball intramurals and the T-Club of which he was secretary.

Marjorie Starkweather has been affiliated with many activities pertaining to her field of English. She was editor-in-chief of the Echo, copy editor and proofreader of the Gem, and president of the English Club. She has been an orientation leader and an active member of the Symposium Dialecticum.

Ronald Valutis has been president of both his freshman and sophomore classes as well as president of the Trojan Players; which he has obtained through his participation in numerous dramatic productions. He has been an orientation leader, and a member of Student Council. Ron plans to teach mathematics.

ACTIVITIES

... From the music building comes the sound of instruments tuning up. In the gymnasium cheerleaders practice a new routine. Down in the basement the coach is giving the team a pre-game pep talk. On the cluttered stage a crew constructs a set. Taylor University is more than the hours spent in study. The activities that take place within her grounds contribute their part in molding the souls and intellects of her people. They offer the practical opportunity to use the theory learned in classes. They enable each person to develop lines of avocation, all of which create a broader life...

Chauffeured to the game in a convertible car, her majesty smiles to an admiring crowd.

Queen Pat gracefully receives a trophy and bouquet from Johnny Lance, co-captain of the football team.

The class of '59 displayed three phases of education progression for their float.

Panorama of progress is portrayed in the second place winning float built by the juniors.

With contrasting colors of green and purple, wheels turned on the Sophomore float to represent progress.

The first place award was given to the Freshman float, decked with purple and gold and replicas of buildings.

BASKETBALL

Taylor's Trojans use the two-ball criss-cross drill in a typical pre-game warm up session. The exercise is accomplished with split-second timing.

Trojan players—Maurice Paul (52), Oris Reece (32), and Jack King (54) fight for the rebound in a heated contest with Indiana Central's Greyhounds.

Trojans attempt a successful pass.

Opposing Number (44) tries to defend his basket.

Hoosier madness, basketball, combines activity with technical skill. This year's team has discovered the right formula, winning first place in the Hoosier Conference.

Tim Diller is surprised by an intercepted pass.

B-TEAM

A training ground and constant source of fresh material for the "A" basketball team as well as a successful unit within itself, the "B" team encourages intensive effort and good sportsmanship.

CROSS COUNTRY

"Smitty" does a work-out around the track.

The highlights of the '58-'59 cross-country season were land-slide victories over Franklin and Anderson colleges. Close meets were lost to Indiana Central, Hanover, and Earlham with the other loss coming from Manchester. The outlook for the next year's team, composed of freshmen and sophomores, is promising.

20 According to my earnest expectation and my hope, that in nothing I shall be ashamed, but that with all boldness, as always, so now also Christ shall be magnified
in my body, whether it be by life, or by death.

21 For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain.

22 But if I live in the flesh, this is the fruit

STUDENT JUDICIARY STUDENT COUNCIL

Enemies of Taylor's society are tried by the Student Judiciary. The five elected members enforce the character strengthening honor system and everyone respects their decisions.

To instill in our students a sense of democracy, the Student Council stands as the adjustment between student and faculty-administration relationships. Its proper functioning is the responsibility of each student.

ORIENTATION LEADERS

Operating under Taylor's unique program, the orientation leaders introduce college life to the incoming freshman. Starting with Freshman Week and continuing throughout the first semester class, they help the new students over any arising difficulties.

In group sessions the leaders iron out problems to be met in classes.

WOMEN'S CHORUS

Missionary Conference Chorus.

FALL REVIVAL

Early in the school year we received spiritual stimulation during a week of religious meetings. Other activities are reduced to a minimum as attention is given to spiritual preparation for another school year.

MISSIONARY CONFERENCE

"We've a story to tell to the nations," by a Girls' Trio.

Mrs. E. Cattell gives the woman's position on the mission field.

Men's Chorus presents the Missionary Conference theme song, "Reap Your Harvest."

Scenes from the 1958 Missionary Conference . . . singing and preaching centered around the call to go forth to all nations.

Dr. Stimson relaxes during one of the discussion meetings of Spring Spiritual emphasis week.

SPRING REVIVAL

Dr. Stimson speaking from the pulpit.

The "5 feet 19 inch" tall speaker reads and answers questions pertaining to the spiritual life.

RADIO & T.V.

The need for acquainting the local area with school activities and the necessity for practical experience in the technical field are both met in Focus, Taylor's weekly television and radio program.

Technical director, Grady Rogers, smooths out the wrinkles with Dave LeShana.

Professor Donald Martin and David LeShana have a monitored discussion on Focus.

There is a man who knows

He'll help you solve your maintenance problems

AND PROBABLY SAVE YOU MONEY, TOO!

Maintaining a floor, especially an asphalt tile floor, can be a problem. The finishing material selected must stand up under abuse. It must keep floors light and attractive without harming the surface. It must be easy enough to use so that labor costs are low. And, it must be easy, as well as economical, to maintain.

Solving these problems requires the time and knowledge of a specialist. When you have a floor that needs refinishing—any type of floor from wood to asphalt to concrete—consult your nearby Huntington Man. He knows how to do the job in the best way with the least expense for labor and materials. He knows how to protect all of your costly floors and floor coverings and the best ways to maintain your building from floor to ceiling, and he can help you in other ways, too.

Your Huntington Man will gladly help supervise the maintenance of floors and help train personnel. It's a service that's yours without cost when you use Huntington products. Write for the name of the Huntington Man nearest you. No obligation, of course.

LIFE is just one Graduation after another . . !

Whether you're graduating from high school or college, getting married, or moving into a new home, it's an experience to remember and marks a milestone in your life.

We at Indiana & Michigan Electric Company are closely associated with you as you pass these milestones, for low cost, dependable electricity is an important part of everyday living.

You live better electrically today! But what the future holds for you in even better living through electricity is hard to imagine.

As you continue your educational program or enter into the business world, you can always be sure there will be plenty of electric power available so you can live better . . . electrically!

live better...  electrically

Psalms 122:1

THE METHODIST CHURCH

A slave has but one responsibility - to do what he is told to do.

A free man has one responsibility - to choose what he will do.

Action without choice is much the simpler plan of life. The slave is secure. He has no qualms of conscience. He need not trouble himself about right and wrong. He lives in an amoral state. He has peace - not peace of mind but without mind.

The free man must judge all things. So the more he knows, the larger his freedom.
The larger his freedom the greater his responsibility. The greater his responsibility the more he can accomplish.

The T aylor Alumni Association is proud to welcome the Class of '59 into its membership. We are confident that you have been trained academically and spiritually, to assume your share of responsibility in the Christian enterprise and to reflect credit upon the college of which you will always be a part.

We wish you God's best, and rich satisfaction as you enter your chosen field of service.
